Logitech Tap USB cable:

Logitech Tap, a touch-screen controller that connects to any computer via USB, opens up new possibilities for applications like team collaboration, digital signage, room automation, and environmental control. Unlike AV controllers that require custom programming and installation, Logitech Tap offers plug-and-play connectivity as an additional display. Developers and system integrators can then design a touch-based user interface to simplify workflows and automate tasks.

Boasting a 10.1" touchscreen, commercial-grade cabling, and multiple mounting accessories, Logitech Tap delivers a sleek appearance and convenient placement options that are as pleasing to the eye as they are to IT.
