Perfect for a full-size keyboard

If you work with a full-size keyboard, the Red plus with extended palm support is ideal for you. The extended wrist support has been specially developed for RollerMouse Red and provides a comfortable working position for your forearms and hands. With a longer and smoother transition from your desktop to your RollerMouse and keyboard, this wrist rest allows you to achieve a better and more ergonomic working position. The wrist rest is also ideal for users with big hands and long fingers.

Wrist support for optimum comfort

The extended wrist support's conical shape and soft centre improve your hand position and spread the pressure over a wider area. The Red plus with extended palm support is suitable for desks that have at least 30 cm of space in front of the computer screen.
